MONTREAL, Nov. 25.—An audit of the Montreal Loan and Mortgage Company is proceeding. The result will be made known as soon as completed. The defalcation of $100,000 is denied but there is admitted to be a deficiency in cotton stocks, but not sufficient to cause an embarrassment.

Paul Deachamp & Co., boots and shoes, have failed; liabilities small. P. Breton, stationer, has suspended; liabilities fifteen hundred dollars. A coal merchant, named Mayberry, has disappeared under unfavorable circumstances, leaving creditors here who advanced him loans on warehouse receipts that are worthless.

TORONTO, Nov. 25.—A fire in Elliot & Co.'s wholesale drug store on Saturday destroyed $25,000. Fully insured.

BRANTFORD, Nov. 23.—A deep feeling of surprise and regret was experienced to-day when the report gained currency that Mr. David Plewes, the well known and hitherto successful mill owner, was in financial difficulties. On enquiry it was learned that the rumor was only too well founded. Mr. Plewes carried on business in Winnipeg in partnership with Mr. John Mann. He owned and operated the Holmesdale Mills here. He also owned the Kerby Mills, but leased them to Sloan, handling the output. Mr. Plewes handled the products of several other mills, so that his operations were on an immense scale. In the present confused condition of matters it is difficult to ascertain the origin of the trouble, but it is believed to be in consequence of the Bank of Montreal, the principal creditor, refusing increased accommodation. Although no assignment has yet been made it is understood that Mr. Plewes is willing to give up all to satisfy claims; but recent unprofitable operations will, doubtless, render a serious loss inevitable.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—A Daily News dispatch from Winnipeg says: The old difficulty over disputed territory reopened to-day, when Attorney-General Miller of the Manitoba government went to Rat Portage and summoned M. McQuarrie for selling liquor without a Manitoba license. McQuarrie had a license from the Ontario authorities and refused to appear. A warrant for his arrest was issued, and Creighton, Chief of the Manitoba police, was sent to arrest McQuarrie, and Creighton was himself arrested by the Ontario police. As he was being taken to the court house to give evidence against Creighton, McQuarrie was pounced upon by two Manitoba police. The Ontario police force in turn captured the Manitoba policemen.

A SHOCKING SCOTCH MURDER AND SUICIDE.

A Horrible Story.

A shocking narration comes from Scotland. A medical student named William Brown has recently been paying his court to a Miss Spiers. Jealousy on Brown's part had caused many disputes, and his morbid disposition had recently given great uneasiness to the relatives of the girl. Last night Brown met Miss Spiers by appointment in the highway near her father's house. He renewed his accusations, and finally, becoming beside himself with rage, he drew a knife and made a rush at the unfortunate girl Her shrieks brought a maid servant to the rescue, and the two women in the darkness for their lives. Brown quickly overpowered them, cut Miss Spiers' throat in such a manner that death resulted almost instantly, and fatally stabbed the servant. He then cut his own throat and fell beside his victim. The servant, whose wounds did not immediately render her unconscious, managed to crawl back to the house. She knocked faintly on the door, but receiving no reply she traced with her bloody fingers on the door step the following words "Willie did it." Later in the night the prolonged absence of Miss Spiers caused a feeling of alarm. Search was made and Brown and his sweetheart were found lying side by side in the roadway, and the servant on the threshold, all dead.

TRUE merit brings its own reward, in the case of Burdock Blood Bitters it is rapidly bringing its reward in its increasing sales; as a prominent Druggist recently said, "it now sells on its own merits." It is the grand specific for diseases of the Blood, Liver, and Kidneys. 25,000 bottles have been sold during the last three months. (34)

Our Cookery Book.

A little breakast bacon fried to a crisp and served with beefsteak is very palatable.

Potato ribbon is a new and dainty dish. Choose good, large, sound potatoes, pare and lay in cold water for an hour. Then take a sharp knife and pare round and round in one continuous strip. Fry carefully in hot lard serve on a flat dish.

A nice way to cook chicken is to "smother" it, as the Marylanders say. Get a plump chicken, in the first place, and cut it up. Put in a baking pan with enough water to cover it and baste with a little flour and water. When almost done, cover with drawn butter and leave in the sun for ten minutes. Serve hot.

The following is an excellent receipt for macaroons: Pound and blanch six ounces of sweet almonds, add a pound of powdered sugar, the beaten whites of six eggs, a tablespoonful of brandy, two ounces of rice flour. Mix well together and drop in small quantities on a sheet of thick paper, making little round cakes. Bake in a moderate oven until a light fawn color. These ingredients will make a large quantity and they are a delicious dish for Sunday evening tea.

Turkey stuffed with oysters is a very rich and palatable dish. For a large turkey take two dozen oysters. After removing the heart chop finely and pound to a paste. Mix five ounces of fine bread crumbs, an ounce of butter, a little pepper, salt chopped parsley and the grated rind of half a lemon. Mix well together and then mix in one egg, and a little oyster liquid if desirable. Fill the turkey and tightly.

A very cheap and nice jelly can be made as follows: Taken two teaspoonfuls of gelatine and put in a pint of water; squeeze in the juice of two lemons; when it comes to a boil try if a teaspoonful will harden; then pour into a glass mould. The mould should by rubbed with a little white of an egg to keep the jelly from sticking. To take out of the mold. Wring a cloth out of hot water, wrap about the mould and turn it upside down on a dish; hold it so for two or three moments, then raise the mold and the jelly will remain firm on the dish.

Stewed apples may be made into a very pretty dish. Cut the apples in halves and carefully peel them, leaving a thin bar of the peel across the centre. Place core downward in a shallow pan of boiling water. When they are tender, carefully remove to a glass dish, without breaking. Let the syrup come to a boil, sweeten, and thicken with a little gelatine; flavor with lemon or vanilla and when about to jelly, pour over the apples; set away to cool. Before putting on the table, beat up the whites of two eggs and two table-spoonfuls of powdered sugar, and spread on the top. The litttle trouble required to make this dish will be amply repaid.

EVOLUTIONS.—Remark the change, a quarter of a century ago and now Victoria with its former primitive forests, log cabins, and the crudest structures for a shelter, which to-day smiles with its many comfortable homes. We claim a meed of credit among those who have "made the wilderness and solitary places to blossom as the rose" to have been the nucleus of introducing other refining elements. We do not particularize one thing, because, in certain parlance, it has the ring of being nasty and shoppy, but we assert that the "tout ensemble" of our place gives a perfect picture of an attractive Christmas resort. T. N. HIBBEN & Co.

J. E. KENNEDY, dispensing chemistt Cobourg, says that no blood purifier tha' he has ever handled has had such a large sale as Burdock Blood Bitters, and adds, "In no case have I heard a customer say ought but words of praise for its remedial qualities." (31)

Of all the sweets of which mortals can dream,
There is none to excel strawberries and cream.

Neither is there any remedy known to mortals that can excel Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry as cure for Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum and Bowel Complaints. (29)

NOTICE OF DIVORCE.—Virginia Tietjen ha. been granted a divorce from A. P. Tietjen and she has been granted the custody of their minor child and is to assume her maiden name of Virginia Williams.—Grass Valley Tidings, July 12th. *1m

AN oasis in the desert is no brighter light to the wandering Arab than a bottle of Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure is to the unfortunate sufferer from Kidney Disease. It is a perfect, positive and permanent cure. dw

SIMPLY miraculous is all I can say of the effect of Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure in my case. An elderly lady writes this from Antigonish, N. S., who had suffered from pain in the back for twenty years. dw.

IT is a fact that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has more well earned testimonials of praise for its virtues in curing Cholera, Colic, Cholera Infantum, Dysentery, etc., than all other remedies of that class combined. It will stand investigation.

DR. COOPER'S VEGETABLE LIVER-WORT AND KIDNEY CURE

Has no equal as a safe remedy for all diseases of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. Over 250,000 bottles sold during 1882. Price $1 a bottle. MOORE & Co., sole agents. dw

SAN JUAN LIME.—J. Wrigleworth, importer and dealer in lime from the celebrated kiln of Scurr & Co., Roche Harbor. 2mw.

PHOSPHATINE is nature's remedy for chronic diseases.
PHOSPHATINE will benefit consumptives in any stage.
PHOSPHATINE cures sleeplessness, nervousness, &c., &c.
PHOSPHATINE does not make fat, but solid flesh.
PHOSPHATINE in female weaknesses is invaluable. For sale by all druggists. dw

THERE is no remedy known to medical science that is more positive in its effect to cure Cholera Morbus, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Infantum, and all Bowel Complaints than Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. (35)

AGE should always command respect, in the case of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry it certainly does; for 25 years that has been the standard remedy with the people for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Colic and all Bowel Complaints. (33)

IF you are a professional man, an editor, lawyer, clergyman or doctor, so thoroughly overworwked that now every mental effort is attended with a sense of weariness, followed by headache and more or less severe nervous prostration, take a dose of DR. AUSTIN'S PHOSPHATINE along with your meals for a week or two and we are certain it will relieve you. For sale by all druggists. dw

THE LAMENTATION OF ROBERT BEAVEN.

The public will have observed that in his wail over the government policy on Wednesday the leader of the opposition kept at a respectful distance from the Island railway matter. This is the attitude we predicted some weeks ago he would assume. The Island railway clause of the Settlement Bill he will not oppose; nor will he oppose the Settlement Bill as a whole. He will leave that unsavory and unpatriotic task to Mr. Armstrong (who stands prepared for a tussle with any government that does not recognize his transcendant abilities and call him in) and one or two benighted members who have not studied the matter and know as little about the Settlement Bill as they do of the constitution under which they became legislators. Mr. Beaven will confine his lamentations to the drydock clause; and although docks are usually "dry" subjects he will shed enough tears over this particular dock to float an ironclad. Like Jeremiah his "eye trickleth down and ceaseth not, without any intermission," when he rises to speak of the "great sacrifice," the "stupendous giveaway," the "grand potlatch" which the government have made of the most iniquitious piece of jobbery ever known in British North America. Now, if there be one part of the government policy (where all is good) that is better than another, and where they have displayed especial ability and statecraft, it is in the arrangement under which the Dominion Government agree to accept the dock and restore to the province the sum of $340,000 it had expended upon it. The contract for the construction of the dock was $351,000. The contractors failed and the government undertook to complete the dock by day's work. Mr. Morris, of the firm of engineers who drew the plans was invited out two years ago from England. The original estimate of cost by his firm was under $500,000; but after his last visit he estimated the entire cost at $757,304.94—an excess over his original estimate of nearly $300,000. Yet the leader of the opposition on Wednesday told the house that the dock if built by the province would not have cost more than $50,000 in excess of the original estimate—thus casting a serious doubt upon the professional ability or veracity of the engineers. (See Sessional Papers, 1882.) In Esquimalt district in 1882, when he addressed the electors, the leader of the opposition repeatedly told them (See reports of his speeches in our esteemed contemporary) that the cost of the dock would be $40,000 less than the amount of the subsidies. How does that statement agree with the same gentleman's statement on Wednesday? We have always regarded Mr. Beaven as wilfully blind; but we should dislike to say that either he or any other member of the house is untruthful. But what other inference can be drawn? In spite of all he may affirm to the contrary, in spite of his tears and groans, we believe that he secretly thanks his stars that the pick-pocket dock, which by this date would have gobbled up all the provincial revenue to keep it going, has been passed into other and more affluent hands. If anything more than another has tended to popularize this government and give it a strong hold on the affections of the people it is their dry dock policy—coupled with the success of their Island railway, immigration and public lands policy. The Settlement Act has set the country on its feet. It has brought to the unemployed work, to the poor food, to the business man and the carrier traffic, and has imparted a value to previously unsaleable realestate. Let a man who visits Victoria or New Westminster note the bustle and activity that are apparent now and contrast the present condition of those cities with their dead-and-alive appearance eight months ago. The whole country is waking up after a Rip Van Winkle sleep and under the influence of wise and progressive legislation is about to rank with the proudest and wealthiest provinces of the Dominion. Mr. Beaven but wastes his tears when he laments over the drydock. His connection with that stupendous revenue-thief was as discreditable as his statements respecting its cost are inconsistent; and, as Mr. Smithe said on Wednesday, he should be ashamed to even refer to it. His connection with that "job" should be sufficient to cause him to hold his tongue when it is under discussion.

THE LATE GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

This is the London World's verdict on Lord Lorne's regime: The Marquis of Lorne leaves no unpleasant memory behind him in Canada; he would have left a warmer one had he been less heavily handicapped. He succeeded the most popular Governor any colony ever knew; he brought a Princess with him; and with the best will in the world to be gracious and cordial, he has the Argyll manner of forced frankness in its fullest development. Canada has never had a more hard-working Governor. He smiled all the time, and shook hands with a conscientious assiduity, and a similitude of fervor, whish he honestly tried to make as like the real thing as nature would allow. His life was scrupulously blameless. He was not wholly fortunate in his staff, but it was scarcely to be expected of him that he should have the instinct to discern that officials, who were so suave with him, could be arrogant, discourteous, and ready with slights, when outside the range of his observation. As for the Princess, the first ball at Rideau Hall sickened her of the Canadians. It is true that there were unsavory incidents of that function; but there were people about her who ought to have told her how essentially a Government House ball in Canada must, in the nature of things, differ from a court ball at Buckingham palace.

LORD LORNE LECTURES ON CANADA.

IRISH POLITICAL AND CRIMINAL NEWS.

A Canadian Motion for Woman Suffrage.

EUROPE.

BIRMINGHAM, Dec. 6.—Lord Lorne delivered a long address here last evening upon Canada and its resources. He particularly praised the salubrity of the climate, and said that fevers which were too common in the United States were even unknown within the boundaries of the Dominion. He lauded Canada as a field for immigration, and expatiated upon the marvelous progress made by the various towns. Lord Lorne concluded by saying the Canadian people are thoroughly devoted to their connections with the [illegible] they would long ago have discarded their allegiance of which they are proud. With the Dominion of Canada and the Australian colonies in close relations England need never fear her proud position in the world would be shaken or questioned.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The directors of the London and San Francisco bank have voted to pay out of the reserve fund the amount of the defalcations of their secretary.

It is supposed that the Zulu chief Cetewaye will be restored to power and his lands placed under the protection of British troops.

DUBLIN, Dec. 6.—At the assizes to-day Elliott was indicted for the murder of Mrs. Smyth, wife of a landlord of Westmeath, who was shot dead while returning from church. True bills were also found for conspiracy in the same murder against 14 persons. Three persons of those arrested were discharged.

PARIS, Dec. 6. — Placards notifying workingmen to attend the anarchist meeting in front of the Bourse on Friday are posted in the disorderly quarters of the city.

DUBLIN, Dec. 6.—Healy, M.P., presided at the Fortnightly Irish National League to-day. The secretary announced that £10,000 had been received from America since the last meeting. Biggar referred to J. O'Connor Power, M.P. for Mayo, as the James Carey of Irish politics. He also added that any Irishman had the choice of a government situation who would become a traitor to the interests of Ireland.

Sullivan, M.P., referring to the action of the government in proclaiming Newry, said it had not been the custom of Nationalists to interfere with Orange celebrations, but that henceforth when Orange meetings were announced Nationalists would probably hold counter meetings and then compel the government to proclaim both. He attributed the present unhappy state of affairs to the recent tour of Sir Stafford Northcote.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—O'Donnell was informed yesterday by the sheriff that he would be hanged on the 17th. He received the announcement with composure and replied that he was prepared for the worst.

CHINA.

HONGKONG, Dec. 6.—Admiral Pen Yu Len, at Canton, has notified foreigners that a war with France is imminent and that he is massing all available land and sea forces for the protection of Canton. The Admiral holds France answerable for the war and warns neutral powers to observe the treaty stipulations and rules of international law.

CANADA.

ST. CATHERINES, Dec. 6. — The Welland county council has resolved to memorialize the Ontario legislature to grant woman suffrage.

DELAYED DISPATCHES.

EASTERN STATES.

FAIRBULT, Minn., Dec. 5.—Milo N. Pond, an old resident of Fairbult, was fatally shot this afternoon by Mrs. Geo. Swartz, a woman who has recently been divorced from her husband, although they have been continuing to live together. She alleges that Pond circulated damaging reports regarding her. She was arrested.

GALVESTON, Dec. 3.—News' Austin special: T. B. Harris, a stock raiser and banker in Tom Green county, informed the governor to-day that twenty miles of his fence has been destroyed by fence cutters, and that 10,000 posts and two car loads of wire were burned with his hay and other property.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Dec. 5.—Ross Grove, on West Pennsylvania Railroad line, nine miles from Alleghany city, was the scene this afternoon of one of the most brutal and hotly contested hard glove prize fights that ever took place in western Pennsylvania. The principals were Patrick Moran and Jas. McCoy, and one hundred and fourteen rounds fought in one hour and thirty-six minutes. The fight has been on the tapis for several months and was for a purse of $300. Both men are pugilists of some repute, McCoy having fought several battles in this vicinity, while Morgan has participated in a number of fights in this country and England. McCoy is 27 years old, and Morgan, owing to the great difference in age it was thought the former would have an easy victory, and betting was two to one in favor of McCoy. A ring was marked out, but no ropes put up, and at 3:42 time was called. At the beginning McCoy broke his right wrist, and for the rest of the battle fought with his left hand. Both men appeared determined to win, and they were soon covered with blood. After McCoy broke his wrist, he fought desperately and succeeded in knocking down his antagonist one hundred and ten times. In the 111th round Moran got in a terrific blow on McCoy's neck felling him like on ox. He was picked up and carried to his corner, but he was completely dazed and wanted to stop fighting, but his friends prevailed on him to continue, and he fought three more rounds, Moran knocking him out in the 114th round. Both men are terribly punished, and McCoy had to be carried to the train.

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—The coroner this afternoon held an inquest to inquire into the cause of the death of Mrs. Mary Hyde aged 60 years, who lived as a recluse for years and died alone. A verdict was rendered that death resulted from a combination of asthma and want of nourishment and drink. She claimed to be a niece of the duke of Argyle and cousin to the Marquis of Lorne. A separation from clan Campbell, to which she belonged, was caused by her marrying below her station. Her husband was murdered by Indians on the overland route to California thirty-five years ago. Returning to Chicago, she amassed considerable property as a music teacher, but took to drinking and dissipation.

Australasia.

QUEENSLAND.

Captain Lindsay, of the barque Ceres, which was wrecked on the Chesterfield reefs on September 9th, arrived at Port Mackay, Queensland, on the 22nd after experiencing great hardships. The captain left the wreck in a dingy at about the same time as the chief officer, but the boats parted company.

At Brisbane on October 15th James McMahon and Jano, an aborigine, were hanged for murder, and George, an aborigine, was hanged for feloniously assaulting a woman.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

The captain of the schooner Pearl has arrived at Cooktown and reports having discovered six new islands to the eastward of Normandy island, New Guinea, which he named Pearl group. Some of these he describes as being magnificent with plenty of fresh water and thickly populated.

The annual report of the registrar-general shows that the estimated population of New South Wales at the end of 1882 was 817,468 persons, of whom 449,342 were males and 368,126 females.

TASMANIA.

Great indignation continues to be expressed in all parts of the colony, and particulary in Hobart and Launceston, at the action of the legislative council in rejecting the railway bills and a very awkward political crisis has resulted.

The legislative council agreed to the reduction of the duty on tea of three pence per pound. They also carried resolutions in favor of Tasmania joining the postal union and giving the ministry power to negotiate for a direct line of steamers to Europe.

NEW ZEALAND.

The Maoris have withdrawn their forcible obstruction to the government surveyors carrying out their duty on the upper Wonganui railway.

Conspicuous

Among Christmas exhibits are the cards for this season. Chastity in taste becomes confused in their selection, because they represent so many "par-excellence" publishers. To please all tastes we have in stock Saunders & Co., Hildersheimer, Raphael Tuck & Sons, and Prang's Xmas and New Year cards. The latter, although excellent as usual in beauty of design, will be found fully equalled by the former, and even surpassed in cheapness in price. T. N. HIBBEN & Co. tjan. *

NOTICE.

Canadian Pacific Navigation Co., Limited.

Referring to the advertisement that the steamer ENTERPRISE would leave on this (Friday) morning for NANAIMO AND WAY PORTS, I have now to notify the public that the inspector of boilers has seen fit to stop a clearance being given to said steamer on the ground that her cylinder is defective, which cylinder has been in use since March last and has not since been tested by the inspector, or anyone in his behalf, nor has the same cylinder, since it has been in use, shown any sign of being defective.

For the above reason the sailing of the steamer has been UNAVOIDABLY POSTPONED; but it is the intention of this Company to place the said steamer on the route, as advertised, as soon as she has been properly tested, and due notice of her sailing will be made public. (Signed)

JNO. IRVING, Manager.

CHRISTMAS GOODS!

HUDSON BAY COMPANY.

The Changes in the Directorate.

LONDON, Nov. 24.

The announcement of the result of the ballot for the committee of the Hudson Bay Company was made to-day and shows Earl Dunraven to be elected Deputy-Governor in the place of Sir John Ross, and Sir Thomas Dakin, Mr. Russell, M.P., and Messrs. Thomas Reynolds and Donald Smith directors, in place of Messrs. Newman, Wilkinson, Gassiot and Eldridge. A majority of votes favored the Marquis of Lorne as governor, but as he is not a shareholder he is not eligible. The announcement of the result of the ballot caused much surprise and further developements are awaited with interest.

Boulon & Mooro's Co.

This company arrived yesterday and will perform this and to-morrow evening at Philharmonic Hall. At one o'clock to-day there will be a grand parade, five of the musicians being ladies—a novel and interesting feature. Mr. Boulon came here in 1858, when a boy. His father, Professor Boulon, built the first theatre—the Colonial—which stood on the site of Mr. Denny's drygoods store, and was burned to the ground in 1868. The present Mr. Boulon was then a mere lad, but he was an adept on the violin and was known as the Youthful Paganini. Since leaving he has studied with the best masters and comes back a professor. The company are highly spoken of and their entertainment will be most refreshing.

A HAPPY RELEASE.—The unfortunate blind lunatic named Kam Kanaka Kanatto, who has been in jail since the 23rd October, was last night in a dying state. He was a powerful maniac and has been a great source of trouble, but for the last two days his strength seemed exhausted, and the doctor could do nothing for him.

A WOOLEN MILL.—Mr. David Askey, late of Norwood, Ont., has arrived for the purpose of embarking in the manufacture of woolen goods. There are provincial and municipal bonuses awaiting payment to any person who may engage in the business.

THE President's message recommends that polygamy be put down with a strong hand. A surplus for the year of $60,000,000 is shown, and it is proposed to build up a navy with the surplus.

What Some People Say.

That for bargains in clothing, etc., we all go to W. G. Cameron's Mechanics Store, Johnson street. *

That undergoing general circulation is a story that Edison, the inventor, has produced an electric toy baby that can arrange the letters of any name from among the spelling blocks; that can say "Come in," "Mamma, I'se sleepy," and two or three other sentences, and can cry, laugh, sing and play the piano.

That Miss Elizabeth Stuart Phelps has written a novel entitled, "A Brave Girl." This is probably the one who went to sleep without looking under the bed.

That "The Moon," said a total abstainer, "is not quite a teetotaller; but she lets her moderation be known to all men—for she only fills her horn once a month." "Then she fills it with something very strong!" observed a bystander, "for I have seen her half gone!"

That Bulwer's autobiography is said to abound with allusions to the peccadilloes of his father, to which he refers with greater and more distasteful frankness, if possible, than Dickens and Trollope do in referring to the shortcomings of their parents.

That Mr. Tremaine, secretary of the Charlwood railway company, has fled from London. An investigation of the affairs of Edward C. THURSDAY, Dec. 6.

W. Leary vs. B. F. Dillon.—This was a claim for $12, value of a valise and contents, alleged to have been unlawfully detained by defendant.

Mr. J. P. Walls for plaintiff; Mr. S. P. Mills for defendant.

Verdict for plaintiff with costs.

J. J. Austin vs. Burrard Inlet Fishing Co. Plaintiff agreed to accept a nonsuit.

J. F. Bott vs. Rebecca A. Smith.

Plaintiff claimed $30 being amount of license fee due by defendant and which was paid by plaintiff in default of payment by the former.

Mr. Pollard for plaintiff; Mr. C. E. Pooley for defendant.

J. F. Bntt deposed to hiring and taking possession of Swan Lake hotel in July last. Mrs. Smith had told him the license was paid for the ensuing half year. He had asked for the license and Mrs. Smith told him she could not lay her hands on it but thrt it was all right.

The lease of the farm, hotel and license was read, in which defendant relinquished all right and interest in them and transferred them to the plaintiff. The lease was dated July 1st. Mr. Nuttall who drew up the lease dated it as above although plaintiff demurred to this as the date he took possession was July 20th. On August 30th he received a notice from Supt. Todd that the license was not paid. (To Mr. Pooley)—Would swear that Mrs. Smith had said the license was paid from the 1st July.

Charles Bott—Was son of the plaintiff and present when his father first talked with defendant relative to taking the hotel, etc. This was either in the first or second week in July. Defendant stated on two occasions in witness' hearing that the license was paid until the end of the year. Mrs. Smith had stated nothing to the contrary in witness' presence when the lease was signed.

Rebecca A. Smith—In her first conversation with plaintiff had distinctly told him the license was only paid up to June 20th. The lease was signed about the middle of July. Witness then said it was paid up to the 30th June; this was in the presence of several persons.

R. Nuttall, sworn—Drew up the lease; was aware the license was not paid; suggested to plaintiff when the lease was being signed that it would be better to ascertain for certain if the license had been paid from 1st July. He distinctly urged his client (the plaintiff) not to press for the payment of the license. He was sorry to have to refresh the plaintiff's memory; the gentleman was a stranger in the country and he regretted any misunderstanding should have arisen. (To Mr. Pollard)—If he had spoken feelingly it was not intentional; he did not wish to exhibit any sentiment in the matter. Mrs. Smith said to him in the presence of Mrs. Rowland, Mr. Bo't and Mr. Rowland that the license was not paid; was not certain if the others heard it.

M. Rowland, sworn.—Was called upon last July to value property for Mrs. Smith. Mr. Nuttall was valuing on behalf of Mr. Bott; heard lease read; no objections were raised; spoke to Mr. Bott about transfer of license.

Mr. Pooley submitted that the case had arisen from a misunderstanding on the part of the plaintiff. He maintained it had been clearly proved that the fact of the license being unpaid had been sufficiently mentioned. He asked for a verdict for the defendant on the ground that she was not liable for payment of license in the absence of an agreement to the contrary after her interest in it had ceased.

Mr. Pollard submitted the facts that plaintiff having carried on his business without effort to obtain a license was sufficient in itself to substantiate his statement that he supposed it had been paid for. The final clause in the lease should militate in favor of his client, for whom he requested a favorable verdict.

His lordship said the human memory was very fallible and this was a case in point. As regards number and credibility the weight of evidence was against plaintiff. He entirely acquitted Mr. Nuttall of any charge of sentimentality. His lordship would have, in the absence of any overwhelming evidence for plaintiff, to bring in a verdict for defendant.

Verdict accordingly, with costs.

The judge was rising when Mr. Pooley asked his lordship to give his decision on a judgment summons. His client, he added, had been waiting there all day.

His lordship refused, adding that the fact of the man being there all day was no earthly reason why he himself should stay there all night.

Court then adjourned till noon to day.

EAST COAST ROUTE.

Caution to the Traveling Public

Take notice, that the Canadian Pacific Navigation Co. having advertised the old steamer Enterprise to run on the East Coast route from and after Friday next, I hereby inform freighters and travelers that I have no connection, directly or indirectly, with the said company or the said old steamer Enterprise, and I hereby inform the residents of Victoria and the East Coast that the aim of the Canadian Pacific Navigation Co. is to create a monopoly of the carrying traffic on the East Coast of the Island—the same as now exists, to the public sorrow and indignation, on the Fraser and between Victoria and the Mainland, by which the rates of freight within the last twelve months have been nearly doubled by the Canadian Pacific Navigation Co. at the cost of the public. And I hereby caution the public not to contract for passage or freight with the said C. P. N. Co. as I am now completing arrangements for NEW BOATS to run on the Fraser as well as on the East Coast, by which passengers and freight will be carried at the reasonable rates which prevailed before the Canadian Pacific Navigation Co.'s Grab. The said steamers will be managed by obliging and civil officers.

Owner of H.M. Mail Steamers on

WELLINGTON COAL. — The Barnard Castle, with Wellington coal, is due here to-day. So great is the demand for this coal that carts and wagons began to arrive on the wharf Tuesday morning and by night a line two blocks in length had formed, which camped out with the intention of staying till the steamer arrived. Many of the men at night slept in their carts, and the horses are fed where they stand.—S. F. Call, 29th ult.

PERSONAL.—Miss Kate F. Howard, the talented and accomplished daughter of Capt. Howard (former resident of Victoria) left yesterday for San Francisco. Her host of friends in Victoria wish her a safe and pleasant trip.

Yale to Savona's Ferry.

I endeavoured in my last article to show in plain language the greatness of the undertaking and the difficulties of the work, but little remains to be added. Onderdonk's contract can be finished before snow flies next year, 1884, if there is any urgent necessity to force the contractor to this step. I see the time limit for the last portion is 30th June, 1885, and unless something altogether out of common occurs, such as an earthquake, the work will all be finished then with ease. Taken as whole the progress made is very good; difficulties in procuring the right kind of labor, the unwillingness of men to work on dangerous ground. I know of a prominent bridge builder who had worked under me in the east who told me he would not risk his life or men in such a place; the general scarcity of good white labor no doubt was a serious hindrance. One thing I can say, it is remarkably lucky for the syndicate that this truly formidable work will be handed over to them in a finished state. I very much doubt if their general manager has any just conception of this country, but as it is reported he is on his way here, doubtless he will read, mark, learn and inwardly digest the features of a land possessing some of the toughest, roughest and grandest engineering difficulties on this continent.

ENGINEERING STAFF.

It has ever been the custom of a certain class of journalists to have a shy at the government engineers, partly on the principle that it is a good thing to be "agin the government," and partly from the fact that the assailed are practically defenceless. Engineers generally all over the world are not newspaper men. Brought up in a certain groove, with a certain course to follow, fixed principles to guide them, and a devotion to their profession, the noblest on earth, little wonder while feeling keenly the injustice of attacks on their integrity and ability they remain silent. Their position demanded it and they perforce acquiesed. In most cases badly paid, with enormous responsibilities resting on their shoulders, often, very often, overworked, is it astonishing if they find neither time nor inclination to rush into print in their own defence. In every fold black sheep are found. There may be and doubtless are incompetent men employed by the government on the Onderdonk contract; influence and other motives have often pushed the boy to the front, over the heads of his seniors, but generally speaking the engineering staff are gentlemen of long experience and practice, acquired over many years of danger, hardship and toil. They may be said to have grown grey in the service of their country and hold records of work well done in every part of our Dominion, as high as any in the world. I have the pleasure of knowing as old comrades very many of the staff of the C. P. R. and now feel it only a pleasant duty to bear witness to their manliness, honor, ability and strict sense of duty. The government are well served. Honors, stars and ribbons decorate the breasts of many men, who have not done one whit more for fatherland than they. In peril often by day and night, famine and disease, yes death itself, has been fearlessly met where duty called. In years to come when luxuriously riding in his cushioned car the traviler sees the mighty chasms science has bridged, the avalanche evaded, the mountain slope stopped, and all the great and grand work planned and carried out by master minds, he will then pay a tribute now denied to those who first scaled the dizzy heights and plunged into darksome defiles at the call of duty.

It is a proud thing to point back over the long years in the past since 1871, when hundreds of men were pushed into the woods, mountains and plains, "terra incognita," and see of the thousands employed how few death claimed through mishaps or negligence, all due and due alone to the patient forethought, admirable management and discipline maintained by the engineers in charge and their assistants.

In 1872, the party on which I was engaged ran short of provisions, our Indian carriers proved faithless. We had some 60 miles to do to close our season's operations, so we worked on through two long months on half rations, pounded rice and beans and tea, no meat or anything else. I instance this as one of many. Again in the season of '74 and '75, Messrs. Jarvis and Hanington made a trip through the Rockies in mid-winter and very nearly paid the forfeit for their zeal with their lives. This trip is justly considered to be the most hazardous and plucky ever made in the province. I could go on enumerating numberless similar instances of devotion to duty and pure manliness, but I have said enough. Scribblers may malign but the truth will surely appear at the last. C. E. PERRY, C. E.

CANADIAN SAFES are in excellent favor here; and so they should be. J. J. Taylor of the Toronto works have sent many safes of their make to this province; and their agents, M. W. Waitt & Co., have just brought out for use in the new offices of the Canadian Pacific Navigation Co. a fire and burglar proof safe which stands 65½ inches high; has a width of 47 inches and in depth is 52 inches. The safe offers perfect security against the inroads of thieves or fire and is, withal, an elegant piece of office furniture besides being sold at a much lower figure than safes of American make.

MARRIAGE AT SEATTLE.—Yesterday at noon Mr. A.E. MacCulskey, junior member of the well known house of W. D. Scott & Co. of this city, and Miss Helen M., eldest daughter of Hon. Mayor and Mrs. H. G. Struve, were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's parents on Second street in Seattle. The service was performed by Rev. George H. Watson, of the Episcopal church. Mr. A. E. MacCulskey is a young gentlemen whose excellent business and social standing is acknowledged wherever he is known. His wife, the eldest daughter of Seattle's worthy mayor, is a handsome young lady, possessed of all the winning graces and accomplishments of person and mind which endear her to a wide circle of acquaintances. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. MacCulsky took the up sound steamer for a bridal tour east of the mountains.—Seattle Chronicle.

THE C. P. N. Co.'s STEAMER ENTERPRISE. — It appears that the steamer Enterprise, advertised to sail this morning for Nanaimo and way ports, will not go on that route at present, as the inspector of boilers has objected to a clearance being given her, on the ground that her cylinder is defective. The cylinder is stated to have been in use since March last, and has not been tested by the inspector. It is, however, the intention of the company to put the boat on the route when tested satisfactorily.

THE SEATTLE SECTION. — The railway between Seattle and Tacoma and between Kalama and Portland cannot be completed before spring. At least, so says Mr. Thielsen, the chief engineer.

Interior Siftings.

This (Friday) morning shortly after midnight a fire broke out in one of the Chinese wash-houses, south-west corner of Douglas and Regent streets, and it was soon evident the corner was doomed. The four or five buildings adjoining the one where the fire started caught and the fire engine could not be worked, notwithstanding every effort, and in a brief time the whole corner was in a blaze. Water buckets were used and snow shoveled, and as a last resort a small building was pulled down which prevented the fire spreading to the east. The late rain had so dampened the roofs and sides of the buildings near so that the sparks did not do much harm. We learn the Chinaman lost considerable household effects, while a number of our citizens who had their washing at the places burned suffer loss. The buildings were not expensive—only one being a two-story structure.

The report circulated last week respecting the C. P. R. syndicate taking over and finishing the contracts now going on upon railway work in British Columbia, is now credited here by officials of the Company in charge.

Four horses in the stage bolted on Tuesday week at the worst part of the road between Savona's Ferry and Cache Creek. There were nine passengers, including Mrs. F. G. Vernon, her two children and nurse. Alex. McDonald was the driver. After several critical points were passed, the driver and Messrs. Cook, Scholey and Sproat were thrown out and more or less shaken. McDonald held on to the reins, and the effect was to turn the leaders towards a ravine, so ugly in appearance that they stopped. Mrs. Vernon, who with one child, was taken from the stage by Mr. Sproat, showed much presence of mind. The nurse and the other child also escaped injury. Mr. L. Campbell, who was a passenger, was unhurt. The driver behaved very well. One of the springs of the stage, and the brake, were broken.

Marine.

The American ship William A. Campbell, now at San Francisco, experienced an exceedingly rough passage from New York. Off Cape Horn she came in contact with severe gales, which lasted 70 days, the result being that the seas stove in the forward and aft cabin, flooded the cabin and made a complete wreck of three of the lifeboats, besides losing the chainplates and shifting the cargo. The ferocity of the waves was so great that four seamen were hurled all over the deck, narrowly escaping a watery grave. They were all badly bruised and rendered unfit for duty.

Yesterday at noon the steamship Geo. W. Elder sailed from the Victoria wharf, outer harbor, for San Francisco.

ARREST OF CAPTAIN SEYMOUR.—Capt. W. B. Seymour, who attempted to shoot his father-in-law on Tuesday last, was arrested at Port Madison yesterday morning by Constable Thornton. Mr. Thornton left here on the Geo. E. Starr intending to go to Port Townsend in hope of finding his man there, but when the boat arrived at Port Madison Capt. Seymour came on board having with him the child, the possession of which has occasioned all the trouble. He was immediately arrested and taken to the hotel at Port Madison, where he was kept until nine o'clock, when he was brought to this city by the steamer Susie. The prisoner was taken before Justice Cann, and his hearing was set for Friday morning at ten o'clock. In the meantime he was released on $1,000 bail with H. L. Yesler and Albert Synder as sureties. Capt. Seymour does not allow the child out of his sight for an instant, but the mother has not yet been permitted to see it.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Extremely Dangerous.

TO THE EDITOR.—I think the present dangerous condition of Menzies street, James Bay, should be made known to the public and the possibilities of accidents therefrom lessened. Certain contractors are engaged in removing a house from a lot on this street and are in the habit of leaving ropes stretched completely across the street about two feet from the ground (a most dangerous height) without any lights placed in the vicinity. Last night the ropes were still there, the house in the middle of the street and the capstan about eighty feet away, also in the centre of the street. The telephone wires, cut to enable the removal of the house, lie strewn around on the sidewalk and two persons at least, beside the writer, have when walking past suddenly found these undesirable cords around their necks and themselves in immediate danger of being strangled. I think this is a matter that warrants municipal interference.

TO PORTLAND BY A NEW ROUTE.

Particulars of the Passage of the Ship Inchgreen from Greenock via Cape of Good Hope.

A few days ago the British iron ship Inchgreen, Captain Miller, with a cargo of pig iron, fire brick and cement, arrived here from Greenock having come the eastern route via the Cape of Good Hope instead of the usual western route via Cape Horn. She is the first vessel bound from England to Portland that ever came by this route, and thinking an account of her voyage would be of interest to seafaring men and others engaged in shipping an Oregonian reporter yesterday called on Captain Miller with a request for a statement of his passage. Capt. Miller, who is evidently a very intelligent seaman, cheerfully gave the required information. The time from Greenock to Astoria was 168 days, and the distance traversed, including all deflections occasioned by contrary winds, was 26,763 miles, about 5,000 miles longer than the Cape Horn route.

THE ROUTE.

From England Capt. Miller followed the beaten track until off Rio Janeiro, avoiding the Brazilian shore current and heading nearly southeast to latitude 41, then due east to the Cape of Good Hope. Moderate westerly winds prevailed. He then came eastwardly to longitude 155 east, latitude 46, having fine weather all the way; sighted the Snares south of New Zealand; thence E. N. E. to longitude 120 west, latitude 28, near Ducie island; thence due north to latitude 10 north; thence N. W. by N. and straight for the Columbia river.

The voyage from Greenock to Tasmania occupied sixty-six days, and was the slowest he ever made owing to extraordinary calms. His fastest passage was forty-one and a half days. He thinks that the passage to the Columbia river can be made ordinarily in 135 to 140 days When off Tasmania September 3rd he was struck by a gale and went before it to ease his ship. This cannot be done in rounding Cape Horn. Hence with hazardous cargoes, such as railroad or pig iron, he says the eastern route is much to be preferred and he unhesitatingly recommends it. The little loss of time is more then offset by the saving of strain to the ship. With his dangerous cargo on this passage his vessel, so far as he knows, had not loosened a rivet, and the cement came out in perfect order.—Oregonian.

RUINED BY RUM.

JOLIET, Ill., Dec. 1.—A report has just reached this city of the death of Dr. Melville, of Peotone, Ill., twenty-eight miles east of Joliet, which is the sad termination of a tragic career of crime and intemperance, and the ruin of a once bright and happy home. About two years ago, during the temperance crusade in that little city, Dr. Melville, who was then a prosperous practicing physician, took an active part in the temperance work, having reformed from a course of excessvie drinking. A saloon keeper named Mink had been to Joliet, where he found he had been indicted for selling liquor illegally. He returned to Peotone, and meeting Dr. Melville on the street, at once accused him of informing upon him to the Grand Jury. Hot words followed. Mink struck Melville, whereupon the doctor drew his revolver and shot the saloon-keeper, instantly killing him. The doctor, who was a handsome, educated gentleman, well respected, was put on trial for his life in the circuit court of this country, and the daily presence of his refined wife and beautiful children, who were devotedly attached to him, created a profound sympathy for him. The trial attracted crowds of people daily, and the tide of popular sentiment was strong in favor of the prisoner. The trial was an expensive one for the doctor, and nearly all his property went to fee defending counsel. After a tedious trial, the jury found him not guilty, and receiving some good advice from the judge, he went home with his wife, who wept for joy, and embracing her husband when the verdict was read. He did very well for a while, but the loss of his property so preyed upon him that he went to drinking again heavily. A short time after this his wife died broken-hearted, leaving a family of small children. A few months ago the doctor again married, but the recollections of the ruin he wrought not only in his own family circle, but in that of others, made him dispairing, nervous and full of dread, and he was forced to use narcotics to induce sleep to come to his frenzied brain. He was found dead on his porch in the morning, after a protracted debauch. Thus ends the village tragedy. The loving mother, whose life and hopes are shattered, sinks into the grave a victim of grief; the father dies in a drunken delirium, and the orphaned children are left penniless to battle with the unprotected.

The Wonderful Hat.

The other day a man came into town
A man known to many as Frederick Brown,
Who says that in the bush the other day
He found, when 'twas too late, he'd lost his way;
That striking out, haphazard, and keeping to the left
He reached the place he started from,
Of his senses near bereft.
'Twas then he stopped and knelt—to pray?
Oh! no, 'twas not for that,
But to inspect the compass in the lining of his hat.
Still looking in his hat he took his bearings as he strode,
And safely merged at last upon the well-kept level road.
He mopped the perspiration that his efforts had called forth,
And said, "God bless the needle that pointed to the north!
And bless the man who sold it me;
My duty 'tis to tell,
My compass hat I purchased at the famous I. X L."
